

Žan Javornik People are starving

People are starving
People are broke
Climate change, wars, migration
We remember the dates
But not key information
Our civilization waits for annihilation
We are crazy we are going insane
This is a crisis we can not maintain
And you still can't feel the pain?

It is time to learn
It is time for a change
New chapter, turn the page
We need to completely rearrange
And maybe some day
We will finally find the right way

People are you still here?
Why are you trying to hide and disappear?
No excuses, without fear
Go and make a change
The world needs to become a better place
Go without disgrace
