

Manca Turšič Migration

Migration,
a hard situation,
travelling a long distance,
needing a lot of assistance.

In groups, families or alone
it never feels like home.
Surrounded by strangers,
some of them dangerous.

Leaving your family
choosing your path randomly.
Praying and praying to find a home,
is there somewhere a place that we can have fun.

Walking around all day and all night hoping to find the righteous path.

Crossing the border
feels like an order.
Looking for hope,
but them saying nope.

Knowing that we won't be here for long, because they're sending us back to where we belong.
