

Nejc Grintal Dark Migrations

Migrations are something that is hard to express They might bring opportunities or they might bring distress

New people, new faces
New countries, new land
The one thing that comes with it is money and sand

Some people survive
while others die
It's not on the news and you don't know why

Don't let the pain get to you It'll eat you like a snake Get rid of the nightmares by staying awake

Migration is an emotional journey
That is still being blurry Or maybe just something that makes you worry
